Handwriting practice lines for the cursive letter 'r'. Each line consists of a top line, a middle line, and a bottom line. The first line contains five 'r's: the first is solid black, the second is dashed, and the next three are solid black. The second line contains four 'r's: the first is solid black, the next two are dashed, and the last is solid black. The third line contains three 'r's: the first is solid black, the next two are dashed. The fourth line contains two 'r's: the first is solid black, the second is dashed. Each 'r' is followed by a solid black dot on the middle line, indicating the starting point for the next letter.
